Every precaution has been taken to protect the power-house and the men working there. The men are supplied with meals in the power-house and cots have also been placed there for them. The police said to-night that over a hundred non-union men had left their places on account of illness.

All the downtown hotels are crowded to-night with guests unable to reach their homes in the upper sections of the city. One-third of the police force in Brooklyn was called over to Manhattan to aid in handling the strike situation. Two strikers were arrested for interfering with mon-union men.

No meeting of the Amalgamated Association was held this evening and Vice-President May, of that organization, stated that no meeting would be held until twenty-four hours have elapsed. If at the end of that time Superintedent Hedfey was still unwilling to accede to the domands of the men, the Engineers' and Firemen's Electric End Eccentric Union would be called out. The members of this organization are employed in the various power houses.

A Dollar's Worth Free To Any Rheumatic Sufferer

Crystalized Poison!

Your blood is always full of peison—the poison you ent and drink and breathe into your system. It is the purpose of the blood to absorb dim carry off this very poison. And the kidneys, which has the blood filters, are expected to determine the blood and send it back through the system clean, to gather more poison which, they, in turn, will eliminate. This chemical was very expensive. The duty, too, was high. In all it cost me $4.00 per pound. But what is $4.00 per pound. But what is $4.00 per pound for a REAL relief from the greatest torture human beings know?

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh againsthat is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of the pin and swelling, the end of the suffernment in the end of Rheumatism. That is why I can afford to make this liberal or sufficient in that Rheumatic sufferers, the world over, may learn of my remealy.

Every car bound up-town was filled to its capacity when it left its terminal. Men fought for a foothold on the strip of platform as they would for a place in the last boat of a sinking ship. Women were mauled and roughly handled in the jam and hats were lost, coats were torn and bundles heedlessly dropped in the mud. On the elevated roud the conditions were pretty much the same. The trains were irregular, slow speed was maintained and they barely served to take a small quota of their usual patroniage. And so New York went home, not with the ease and quickness of normal days, but by circuitous routes and with vexatious delays and late dinners were the order of the evening in every home north of Twenty-third Street.

Campaign; Case of Field.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 7.—Sonator Martin will not commit the management of his campaign for re-election to the Senate to his friends entirely, though relying upon them for assistance. When his attention was called to-day to a special from Richmond to the effect that Colonel Josenh Lutton would be in charge of his canvass, with headquarters in Richmond, Senator Martin said;

"I shall be in charge of my own compaign. I hope to have the assistance of Colonel Button and many other of my friends, but I shall conduct my campaign this year as I have always done in the piast."

It will be a week or two before the Senator will be ablotto leave Washington and get down home to look after his campaign, as he will not leave while the extra session of the Senate lasts, of course. Adjournment will hardly be delayed beyond two weeks at most.

Ropre-entative Swanson said to-day he could not tell when he would go to Virginia. He has miny matters which are keeping him in this city, but he is very desirous of getting home and looking after his interests in the gubernatorial campaign.

very desirous of gotting home and looking lafter his interests in the gubernatorial campaign.

In the last hours of the recent Congress, Representative Rixey succeeded in getting through the House a bill in which he was deeply interested, and which is of much importance to a constituent. The bill provides that Surgeon James G. Fields, of the navy, shall be placed in line of promotion. The story behind the bill is somewhat long. Surgeon Fields entered the navy some years before the Spanish war. He is a son of the late General James G. Fields, attorney-general of Virginia. After several years service he was rotired against his protest, because of alleged physical inabilities. When the war with Spain occurred, Surgeon Fields, who was then on the retired list, offered for active list, but with the understanding that he should not be in line for promotion. Mr. Rixey, land other friends of Surgeon Fields have been trying for some time to relieve him so as to allow of his merited advancement and the Secretary of the Navy has more than once recommended that Congress take action to this end. Surgeon Fields is an excellent officer, with a fine record, and will now receive the promotion to which he is entitled.

To Keep Well.

It is easy to keep well if we would only observe each day a few simple rules of health.

The all-important thing is to keep the stomach right, and to do this it is not necessary to diet or to follow a set rule or bill of fare. Such pampering simply makes a capricious appetite and a feeling that certain favorite articles of food must be avoided.

Professor Wiechold gives pretty good advice on this subject. He says: "I am 68 years old, and have never had a sorious filness, and at the same time my life has been largely an indoor one; but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep a healthy was to keep a healthy was to keep a healthy stomach; not by cating bran crackers or dieting of any sort; on the contrary, I always ent what my appetite craves; but daily for the past eight years I have made it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal, and I attribute my robust health for a man of my age to the regular daily use of Stuart's Tablets.

"My physician first advised me to use them, because he said they were perfectly harmless, and were not a secret patent medicine, but contained only the natural digestives, peptones and diastase, and after using them a few weeks I have never ceased to thank him for his advice.

"It honestly believe the habit of taking."
